Family-friendly cottages up to half price over bank holiday weekend

London, August 17 2010: Families looking for a quick late-summer break needn't be worried by talks of airport chaos over bank holiday weekend. Instead they can book a long weekend on the child-friendly Pembrokeshire coastline, where Celtic Haven's self catering holiday cottages are being offered at up to 50 per cent off the normal rate.

The luxury self-catering resort is the perfect spot for families looking for a quick getaway and children are well catered for. Active kids will love the children's adventure zone, football area, specialist activity programme, indoor swimming pool, tennis lessons and mountain boards on offer. Golf lessons are also available on Celtic Haven's own junior golf course and there is even an early dinner restaurant facility available and babysitters on hand.

Celtic Haven is ideally placed to discover the local region from its position within Pembrokeshire National Park. The Pembrokeshire coastal path is on the doorstep of the resort and children will also love visiting nearby attractions including Folly Farm Adventure Park and the monastic island of Caldey.

A week long break from August 28 to September 4 is just £497.50 for a family of four staying in a two bedroom cottage, £687.50 for a three bedroom cottage sleeping six, or £1,442.50 for one week in the six bedroom Manor House, suitable for twelve.

The resort is also offering short breaks at up to 40 percent off, with a three night break in a two bedroom cottage costs just £447.50 for three nights from August 28 – August 31, or four nights from August 31 – September 4.

Celtic Haven cottages are all fitted to a luxury standard and the resort also offers the only Elemis Premier Spa in West Wales with over 80 blissful treatments and holistic therapies, as well as Waves Italian-influenced bar and restaurant. Free use of all leisure facilities, including, gym, indoor swimming pool, hot-tub, sauna, all-weather tennis courts and a nine-hole headland golf course, is also included in the cost of your stay.
