

Luxury cottages in Pembrokeshire reduced by more than 20 per cent in July 27 June 2011, London: Those who haven't had time to book a summer holiday should snap up last minute availability at Admiral's Mews luxury cottages in Pembrokeshire. There is height of season availability for holidays starting on 9 and 16 July at £995 for a week long stay in a two bedroom cottage- a discount of over 20 per cent in some cottages.

Admiral's Mews are self-catering cottages set on the cliffs of historical shipping village, Saundersfoot in the Pembrokeshire Coast National Park and have five star tourist board awards. The modern cottages have a prize winning design, a balcony with panoramic views over the harbour and Atlantic Ocean and guests have access to a private indoor swimming pool. Those staying at Admiral's Mews can join the coastal path from their front door and stroll down the many Blue Flag awarded beaches or enjoy fresh seafood in outdoor restaurants nearby.

Admiral's Mews is a 'sister resort' to the Celtic Haven cottage resort a few miles down the coast and guests have free access to its facilities which include an indoor swimming pool, nine hole golf course, all weather tennis courts, hot tub and sauna. Guests are also welcome to book treatments at Celtic Haven's Elemis Premier Spa and eat at its Italian influenced restaurant, Waves.

The cottage price of £995 per week, which has been reduced from £1,265, includes seven nights accommodation and a complimentary bottle of fizz. The cottages all have an ultra modern kitchen and luxury bathroom with a Jacuzzi. Admiral's Mews is a four hour drive from London and a three and a half hour drive from Birmingham.
